

Associate

bboudreaux@eisnerlaw.com
T 310.855.3200

Practice Focus

Corporate
Entertainment, Media & The Arts
Real Estate
Litigation

Education

Western State University, J.D.
University of Southern California,
B.A., English

Admitted

California
U.S. District Court, Central District of California
U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth
Circuit

Representative Experience

Beau's practice focuses on corporate and IP litigation, as well as complex business litigation, intellectual property litigation and appellate litigation. He has a variety of experience in transactional and litigation matters involving entertainment, real estate, landlord/tenant, licensing, contracts, franchising, fine art, financing, promotional ventures, sweepstakes, contests, and branding.

Selected representative matters include:

- Negotiating and structuring licensing rights from HBO related to Game of Thrones.
- Advising world-renowned artists and celebrities in a variety of disputes and transactional matters.
- Structuring executive compensation packages for CEOs at public companies with multi-billion dollar market caps.
- Advising on emerging areas of law, such as consumer privacy and data brokering.
- Developing promotional agreements for domestic and international sweepstakes.
- Providing legal counsel to Hollywood producers, directors, talent, and production companies in a range of intellectual property matters.
- Negotiating and implementing executive compensation package for celebrity fashion executive with an international fashion brand.
- Advising award-winning branding company on corporate and transactional matters.
- Structuring domestic and international franchise ventures.