

Partner

rross@eisnerlaw.com
T 310.855.3206

Practice Focus

Entertainment, Media & The Arts

Education

Loyola Law School, J.D., Cum Laude
University of California, Los Angeles,
B.A.

Admitted

California

Representative Experience

Rick is Chair of the Firm's Entertainment, Media & the Arts Department and has practiced entertainment and media law for over 35 years. He has represented major studios and independent production companies, distribution and telecommunication companies, television networks and other exhibition entities, pay television services, Internet and other new media companies, individual creative and performing artists, and industry executives.

Selected representative matters include:

- Financing, production and distribution of theatrical motion pictures, television, and new media programming.
- Transactions involving the sale, acquisition, and exploitation of intellectual property assets, including the purchase and sale of content libraries.
- Formation of television and theatrical motion picture production and distribution ventures.
- Ventures for establishment of channels for the delivery of satellite delivered programming in various countries.
- Representation of brands, properties and celebrity clients in connection with their licensing, merchandising, and commercial spokesperson activities.
- Live stage productions.

Honors and Awards

Selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America®, Entertainment Law - Motion Pictures and Television, 2016 – 2022

Selected for inclusion in Southern California Super Lawyers, 2004 – 2005, 2016 – 2019
AV Preeminent Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell

Professional Affiliations and Civic Involvement

Century City Bar Association (Past President and former member of the Board of Governors)

American Bar Association

Beverly Hills Bar Association

Hollywood Radio and Television Society